vs

Urgent Care

How is Emergency Care different from Urgent Care?

Emergency Rooms:

Emergency Rooms are open 24 hours a day for potentially life-threatening emergencies.

Urgent Care Centers:

Urgent Care Centers have extended hours and are not equipped to deal with major medical trauma or life-threatening conditions. They are intended to provide treatment for less serious conditions after regular office hours or when your Primary Care Physician is not available.

Cost: When medically possible, using an Urgent Care Center can save you money!

Your Cost

$250 copay per visit + 20% of total cost per visit.

Your Cost

$50 copay per visit, up to $750. Over $750 is 20% plus deductible.

Wait Time:

Emergency Rooms treat the patients with the most serious conditions first, so patients with less urgent needs will often wait longer to see a doctor.

Wait Time:

Urgent Care Centers usually see patients on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Cost:

Emergency Room costs tend to be 3 times more than a visit to the Urgent Care.

Cost:

Urgent Care is an affordable alternative for non life-threatening health issues.

Your Action Plan!

- Consider the severity of your condition.
- Do you need care immediately, or can it wait?
- Is it during the day when your regular doctor is available?
- Know your options: Urgent Care or Emergency Room?
- Check Provider Partners for an Urgent Care near you.
